"I have really appreciated the recruitment stage with Trigon. I was provided with excellent information and advice on how to prepare my interviews and put forward my personal characteristics and professional achievements. Furthermore, when I first rang Trigon, I was a bit confused about the professional path I wanted to take. Isabelle was a great support. We defined clear goals together for where I wanted my career to go and she helped me to get there. She was more than a recruitment manager ... she was almost a friend."
